LITTLE RELIEF FOR FARMERS IS SEEN

PROSPERITY HAS WRECKED THE "FARM BLOC"

MAY ESTABLISH DIVISION CO-OPERATIVE SELLING

All Suggestions for the Supervision of the Co-operatives, as Advanced by the Last Congress, Have Been Abandoned.

Washington.—General prosperity among the farmers has practically wrecked the famous "farm bloc," which, by holding the balance of power, has exerted great influence in shaping legislation during the past several sessions of congress, it was stated by senate leaders.

Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, chairman of the bloc in the upper branch, and Representative L. J. Dickinson of Iowa, who assumed that role in the house, both candidly admit their followers are lukewarm and are disposed to break from the alliance.

Little effort will be made at the next session to enact relief measures for farmers except to extend the co-operative marketing movement, as they appear as a class to be well satisfied with conditions as they are, according to Capper. Dickinson is reported as holding similar views.

In his annual message President Coolidge will likely espouse a new co-operative marketing bill, which has the backing of Secretary of Agriculture Jardine.

That measures represents the deliberate conclusions of twenty leaders of the farm co-operatives of the country who recently held an extended conference here in an endeavor to reconcile conflicting views as to what steps the government should take to foster co-operative marketing.

The proposed measure provides for the establishment of a division of co-operative marketing inside the department of agriculture, in which all the federal agencies concerned with that problem will be centered.

All suggestions for the supervision of the co-operatives, as advanced by the last congress, have been abandoned.

One of the main functions of the new agency will be to put at the service of the co-operatives all of the mass of information the government now gathers as to crops, markets and the methods of organization and finance of co-operatives.

The president will not suggest farm relief along the lines proposed by the farm commission, which made an exhaustive study of the farmers' needs.

Its recommendations were rejected by the last congress.

Senator Borah of Idaho, however, is outspoken in his declarations that the congress should enact additional legislation in favor of the farmers. He does not agree with the common belief in administration circles that the farmers are now so far on the road to prosperity that they do not need a helping hand.

GERMANS IN U. S. FRAUD NET ISSUE A DENIAL

Frankfort, Germany.—Alfred Merton, president of the Metallbank, and Richard Merton, head of the Metallgesellschaft, issued a joint statement denying the charges on which they have been indicted in the United States of consipiring to defraud the American government out of $7,000,000 during the administration of Colonel Thomas W. Miller as alien property custodian.

The Mertons, Colonel Miller, two Swiss citizens and three corporations, including the Metallbank and the Metallgesellschaft, were accused of having worked to obtain cash and Liberty bonds held in the United States treasury as part of the German property seized by the American government at the outbreak of the World war.

The Mertons, in their joint statement, said:

"Release of the $7,000,000 was based upon a legally, fully justified, detailed and proved claim on the part of the Aktiengesellschaft fuer Metalwerte, whose business was being conducted by the Swiss Bankverein of Basel. No bribery of any kind was undertaken by us in the course of the negotiations."

Bans Children Drivers

San Francisco.—As a step toward preventing traffic accidents, children would be prohibited from driving ing motor cars, under a plan being considered by the California Public Safety conference, it was announced. The conference is conducting a state campaign to induce careful driving and is sponsored by the California Federation of Women's Clubs, California Congress of Parents and Teachers and the State Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

SAYS DRYS CAN'T BANISH LIQUORS

COMPLETE ENFORCEMENT IS IMPOSSIBLE BY U. S.

PUBLIC OPINION MUST BE AROUSED, SAYS ANDREWS

Assistant Secretary of Treasury Addresses the Anti-Saloon League of America in Convention in Chicago on Prohi Enforcement.

Chicago.—General Lincoln C. Andrews, assistant secretary of the treasury, told the Anti-Saloon League of America, in convention here, that the government could not attempt complete enforcement of the prohibition laws.

"The federal prohibition unit has not been treated fairly by the dry forces," he declared. "Unconsciously, perhaps, you leave this law for the federal government to enforce, have put a burden on the federal government which it cannot carry, and which the league cannot expect it to carry.

"Local police work must be done by home governments," he said. "The successful outcome of the prohibition law demands on the part of the Anti-Saloon League, the W. C. T. U. and similar organizations that they seriously and vigorously resume the campaign designed to bring about a state of mind in the communities which not only believe in prohibition, but insist upon its observance and enforcement, particularly by those holding public office."

U. S. PRIESTS HELD IN CHINA ESCAPE

Ossining, N. Y.—The Rev. Otto A. Rauschenback of St. Louis and Rev. Thomas O'Melia, held captive by Chinese bandits in St. John island, China, have escaped, it was disclosed in a cablegram to the Very Rev. James A. Walsh, head of the Mary Knoll seminary here, which trains American priests for foreign missions.

Messages reaching here earlier concerning the capture of the missionaries had not disclosed their identity. Rev. Walsh expresed his belief that the captured men were Revs. O'Melia and Rauschenback, as they were the only ones assigned to St. John island, and the later cablegram substantiated his opinion.

According to Rev. Walsh, after their break from the bandits, who were believed to have been holding the priests for ransom, the missionaries were picked up by the government gunboat Sacramento and taken aboard for Hongkong. Details of their break for liberty were not disclosed in the brief message.

SENATORS INSPECT BOULDER DAMSITE

Las Vegas.—The views of Nevada and Utah in regard to the proposed development of the Colorado river were heard by the United States senate committee on irrigation and reclamation following an inspection of the Boulder canyon damsite on the river near here.

Nevada's representatives at the hearing were Governor J. C. Scrugham, Engineers F. E. Weymouth and Arthur P. Davis, formerly in the government service, and Nevada's Colorado river commissioner, C. P. Squires. Utah was represented by William E. Wallace, Colorado river commissioner for that state.

Following the hearing and a banquet this evening, the committee is scheduled to split up, with Senators McNary, Phipps and Kendrick going east and Senators Oddie, Johnson and Shortridge returning to their homes.

Bird Puts End to Service

London.—Evening church service on the island of Lewis in the Hebrides came to a strange and sudden close some time ago. It was broken up by a blackbird. The bird first attracted attention by tapping persistently at the window and when a number of women, becoming alarmed, opened the door to go out the bird flew in. It made straight for the pulpit and alighted on the head of the pastor, the Rev. William Cameron, who was in the midst of his sermon. A brother parson, the Rev. Malcolm Mac Iver, knocked the bird off and it flapped angry around the pulpit, putting out two lamps in its fury. It circled the church, darting at other lamps, then returned the flustered parson's head. Dr. Cameron finally surrendered and closed the service with a hasty benediction.

Ottawa, Ontario.—Official announcement is made that Premiar Mackenzie King will meet parliament, which will be convened at the earliest possible date.

EDUCATIONAL WEEK PROCLAMATION

Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States.

EDUCATION is becoming well-nigh universal in America. The cedent. Our system of public instruction, administered by State rapidity of its expansion within the past half century has no pre- and local officers, is peculiarly suited to our habits of life and to our plan of government, and it has brought forth abundant fruit.

This is reason for gratification; but in the contemplation of worthy achievements we must still be mindful that full provision has not yet been made throughout the country for education of either elementary, secondary, or higher grades. Large numbers have not been reached by the blessings of education.....The utmost endeavor must be exerted to provide for every child in the land the full measure of education which his need and his capacity demand; and none must be permitted to live in ignorance. Marked benefit has come in recent years from nation-wide campaigns for strengthening public sentiment for universal education, for upholding the hands of constituted school authorities, and for promoting meritorious legislation in behalf of the schools. Such revivals are wholesome and should continue.

Now, therefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States, do proclaim the week beginning November sixteenth, 1925, as American Education Week, and I urge that it be observed throughout the United States. I recommend that the Governors of the several States issue proclamations setting forth the necessity of education to a free people and requesting that American Education Week be appropriately celebrated in their respective States. I urge further that local officers, civic, social, and religious organizations, and citizens of every occupation contribute with all their strength to the advance of education, and that they make of American Education Week a special season of mutual encouragement in promoting that enlightment upon which the welfare of the Nation depends.

FLOWER SHOW FINANCIAL SUCCESS

There was nothing suggestive of "dull November" last Friday when one stepped thru the doors of the library and was immediately in the midst of a floral array that rivalled any city display room. Altho the peak of the chrysanthemum season was about a week earlier the wonderful array of blossoms was amazing. Huge balls of white, yellow and gorgeous colors attracted the eye while masses of "babies" in bronze, orange, yellow, and shades of pink proved equally enticing.

The committee assisted by Mrs. R. E. Dunphy, Mrs. George Husted, Mrs. G. N. Stray, Miss Jessie Lewis, Mrs. E. K. Kennedy,, Mrs. H. C. Smith and others had collected and arranged the quantities of flowers very effectively. The many beautiful baskets, stands and bowls loaned by various members and friends made possible the charming effect.

In the afternoon Mrs. Alison and Mrs. Hyde were assisted in selling by Mrs. L. S. Miller, Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Ainsley and Miss Lewis attended at the fancy work table. Mrs. C. A. Sutter presided over the punch bowl both afternoon and evening and many compliments were showered upon that delectable drink, the sale of which added several shekels to the fund.

The evening party was equally successful with the afternoon. A delightful feeling of sociability prevailed, which culminated in a community sing, led by Mrs. Hyde, with Mrs. Robson at the piano.

Mrs. Alison reported the sum of $145 paid on the building debt, with a few small sums still to come in, which is extremely gratifying to those who worked for the success of the affair and hey wish to thank all who helped with contributions or purchases of any kind.

TELEPHONE CO. ASKS RATE RAISE

The Campbell Telephone Company summoned all its subscribers to a rate hearing which was held here before state railroad commissioner C. L. Seavy, Tuesday forenoon. The matter under discussion was the raise of rates on the Campbell company phones which are at present low as compared with other places.

Considerable time was taken up in discussion for and against the present toll rate from this line to San Jose. Some are opposed to the raise, some the toll, and others both. Under the present district scheme of the commission certain regulations and rates apply. This works a hardship on some and favors others according to location but in general seems quite fair.

Among those speaking at the hearing were A. C. Keesling, E. Howes, E. R. Kennedy, M. E. Purmort, E. B. Stone and Harry Brandenburg.

No agreement as to rate changes has yet been reported and the minutes of the meeting will be laid before the commission for consideration.

NEW ZEALAND TOPIC

The Moreland Good Will Club met November 4 at the home of Mrs. A. A. Earl on Payne avenue with a good attendance and the president, Mrs. Zettle, presiding. Mrs. Boden, of Payne avenue, will be hostess at the club's next meeting, November 18, and Mrs. McBride will talk on "Government Operated Industries."

INTERESTING MEET OF HIGH P. T. A.

The regular monthly meeting of the P. T. A. of the Campbell Union High School was held at the Annex on Tuesday afternoon, November 10, at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Bollinger reported forty-five members as the result of the membership drive recently conducted by the classes of the High School. Altho no class reached the goal of 50% of its membership, the sophomores obtained the best results in bringing in twenty three members; the Freshmen stood second with a membership list of thirteen.

Mrs. Fred Newton, chairan of Recreation and Better Films, read an article in which she urged all persons to support good, wholesome and instructive movies by their attendance at such performances, and as the ticket office registers public opinion, stay away and urge your friends to do likewise, when the pictures are of a questionable character.

Community life as it pertains to High School age was explained. The P. T. A. has planned to help all social activities, and to provide as far as possible for get-together times. They have agreed to sponsor the Camp Fire Girls and Boy Scout organizations, and to work for better school attendance.

Mrs. Rice read an account of an interesting meeting of the Foothill Federation, which was held at Sunnyvale October 26th, and extended a cordial invitation to the November meeting which will be held at the Campbell Union Grammar School, on Friday, November 20. All local chairman are especially urged to attend.

Mrs. Dana Thomas, of the District Home Department, was the speaker of the afternoon, and made a strong appeal to the mothers and fathers "to make home the haven of the tired boys and girls, who living in this present 'be-autoed', 'be-tangoed' and 'be-jazzed' age need the influence of a cheery home, a place to rest from the nervous tension of the day." We live in a mechanical age that has greatly changed our mode of living in the home and community. Most of the amusements that were once found in the home, are now found outside and on a commercialized basis. It is this new environment that creates a demand for parents to be watchful and give earnest thought how to protect the boys and girls from the things which they as children did not have to encounter. The speaker urged parents to study the literature recommended by the Home Department. If this course is pursued all over the country we will soon become a more efficient parenthood. We read books on plants and pigs but we neglect the study of child welfare in the home.

Let the world be able to point to the P. T. A. as a body of Teachers and Parents reading and studying to produce better trained boys and girls."

The next regular meeting will be held on December 8. Mrs. M. Bollinger, membership chairman, has charge of the program.

GOVERNOR RICHARDSON'S CHALLENGE TO LAWBREAKERS

Governor Richardson did well in refusing to interfere in the Anita Whitney case, in spite of all the sob-stuff and pressure that was brought to bear.

His letter to Upton Sinclair, the Pasadena radical, declining to interfere, was couched in language that was as outspoken as it was honest, and we congratulate the Governor upon his declaration that crime shall not have encouragement from the Governor's office in California. He has solemnly sworn to enforce the law. To fail to keep that sacred vow is not broadness. It is dishonesty. He may make a few mistakes, that is human, but his policy is correct.

Governor Richardson has stood through his entire political career on the side of law and order. He has never evidenced any sympathy for those who violate those statutes that defend society and the state, and he has made it known to the world that he is decidedly opposed to special favors being shown, and that the law applies equally to rich and poor.

It is not an easy task to have the courage of one's convictions and declare them in such a wholesome and trenchant fashion as did the Governor in his reply to Upton Sinclair, because the latter is a known fighter, with a following that is characterized by its resourcefulness.

The governor has made it perfectly clear on more than one occasion that he has no sympathy for the lawless element, at the same time proving that his thinking and actions turn in the direction of the public good, and no sob-stuff, threats, or foaming at the mouth will turn him aside from what he considers the right interpretation of his position and power.

When men and women deliberately violate a law, as did Miss Whitney—in spite of the plea that she was convicted for the expression of a political opinion, which is as false as it is brazen—and when such men and women are tried and convicted after fair and honest trial, let them pay the price, be they rich or poor.

The Governor is happily master of fearless judgment and this decision will add to his reputation as a man of unfaltering courage, one who stands for honest administration, and when that is understood by violators of the law, they will be inspired with a greater respect for, and a greater fear of, our judicial system than they have. now

The Mail-News believes that punishment should be meted out with serious care. To send an innocent man or woman to the pen is a horrible thing. And yet we must confess that we have no kind of sympathy for the mushy sob-stuff that is constantly played up, in most cases by youthful writers. This effort to destroy honest government by striking at the justice of penalties assessed for crimes against society is an effort born across the pond. It is thoroughly foreign. It reeks of the I. W. W. and kindred organizations. The true American interpretation is that men and women must obey the laws of the land or suffer for their intentional violation of them.

Governor Richardson concludes one of the most outspoken letters we have read for many a day. He says "While I am Governor I propose to stand staunchly for the laws of the state and to support the constitution. Those who have been convicted, after fair trials by juries, sustained by decisions of courts, cannot expect to escape punishment of their crime by appealing to me. It is my duty to stand up for the laws and to protect society, and I will not issue pardons merely because of popular clamor."

And this decision will cause law-abiding men and women to rejoice and render the Governor the support he deserves.

Melvin Builds New Funeral Home

The spirit of progress, which has been invading all the western side of the Santa Clara Valley, is making itself felt in Los Gatos. The latest improvement taking place there is the new funeral chapel being erected by Edwin H. Melvin. His new plant is a two story building fifty feet wide and eighty feet long situated on the corner of West Main Street and Tait Avenue just across the street from his present place of business. The interior is designed exclusively for the mortuary business and is to be completely furnished anew through-out. The exterior follows the Spanish Hacinda style of California tan finish with the Spanish red tile roof. The building is so situated that large oak and sycamore trees now growing on the premises will not have to be cut. These trees will add to the setting.

Mr. Melvin will be remembered by the older residents of this community, as he was a member of the 1911 class of the Campbell Union High School. After the war, he became associated with C. S. Topping, who owned the undertaking business in that city. After the death of the latter, he became owner of the business.

Melvin states that upon the completion of his new plant some time right after the first of the year, he is going to have a public inspection, to which the residents of Campbell are invited. The Press will carry this announcement in due time.

Only three out of the 871 boys and girls who attended the agricultural club convention at the college of agriculture at Davis, Yolo county, were able to identify the twenty-five varieties of field crops, weeds and seeds that were given them as a test.

American Legion posts of Sonoma county, in session in Petaluma, decided to recommend to Governor Richardson that the Sonoma home, until recently occupied by delinquent women, be turned over to the national department of the American Legion for the care of orphans of veterans. The home is located near Sonoma and the legion proposes to use it for a billet. Mrs. Shepard, national president of the American Legion Auxiliary, is actively engaged in trying to have Governor Richardson agree to the plan.

Scoring 936 points out of a possible total of 1,350, the Healdsburg, Sonoma county, high school apple judging team won in the apple judging contest held in Healdsburg, with four teams competing. Internal revenue receipts in the first California collection district, which includes all the counties north of Kern, fell off 2 per cent from 1924, according to the annual report of Collector J. P. McLaughlin. The decrease was from $56,247,142.33 to $55,381,881.74. The repeal of some taxes and the reduction in the rate of others were responsible for the decrease, although the falling off was not as great as the tax reduction, showing that trade has improved.

The annual harvest festival, or week of donations in aid of the two orphanages maintained in Grass Valley, Nevada county, by the Sisters of Mercy, was started with Mrs. Darcy Ridge as secretary of the committee. Sub-committees will make collections in all of the outside communities, including Sierra county and portions of Yuba county. In addition to large stores of food supplies, several thousand dollars in cash is usually secured.

In addition to the actual building permits issued there has been well over $150,000 in new machinery and equipment installed in new local enterprises during the present year.

Plans are being prepared for a 3-story reinforced concrete and brick infirmary building for the College of the Pacific at Stockton, San Joaquin county. It will be erected on the campus. The architecture will be of the Gothic type. The exterior walls will be brick trimmed with terra cotta. The structure is a gift of Mrs. Harriet R. Jackson and will cost about $30,000.

Some automobile thieves have consciences. This is the conclusion of W. T. Williamson, Lodi, San Joaquin county, business man, when he received a letter from a stranger enclosing $15 to cover the cost of a trip from Lodi to King City, where Williamson recovered his stolen machine. The writer explained that he had borrowed the car for the journey.

For the second time within a few weeks high school students and faculty of Santa Rosa have been aroused over a robbery committed at the school. At a recent meeting of the California Avocado Growers' exchange C. V. Newman of Tustin, Orange county, was elected president. Bids were opened for the construction of a 2-story brick and concrete school building for the Modesto junior college. It will be erected at Modesto, Stanislaus county. This is the second unit of the present building, which was completed some time ago. The second unit will cost about $50,000.

Shakespeare Up to Date

'Hello, Johnston, old man—didn't see you at the Rotary club last week. You certainly missed a heck of a good program—it was a knockout. 'Walt' Raleigh showed the coat he threw in front of the queen. Said he told her, 'Step on it, Liz, step on it.' I hear Goldsmith has a job now with the Checker Taxi and is writing a play on his spare tire called 'She Stoops to Meter.' Must sign off as am writing Julius Caesar, and Antony has just borrowed the ears of the crowd, which must be returned before I can eat lunch. See you at the club tonight. "A few days ago a little youngster brought me a small cardboard box," she stated, "and he was very enthusiastic over what he had to give me. He presented it to me proudly and on examination the contents proved to be several live green caterpillars."—Detroit News.

Put the Situation in Different Light

Vincent Piacenzia was a peaceful man who abhorred blood. In the sweat-shop where he worked two Italian girls in a passionate altercation began scratching each other's eyes out. Horrified, he broke into the cubbyhole of his boss, Mr. Lefkowitz. "Meester a boss," he complained, "it's too bad, dese a girl dey all time fight, scratch da face. You shoulda stop." Mr. Lefkowitz shrugged his shoulders.

"Vat can I do, outside de shop?" he asked. "De ladies must have dere fun."

"But these a girl she's fight inside de shop right now," explained Vincent. Instantly a change came over the boss. He sprang from behind his desk and scuttled toward the machine room, tremulous with rage. "Oi, oi," he howled. "Vat, fighding on my time!"—Everybody's Magazine.
